When Worlds Collide

Chapter one

Verde's lab

'Tell me this, why is it whenever you tell me you've got an idea it ends up to be something to embarrass me?' asked a girl to the demonic infant who was Reborn, who had a sadist smile on his face.

The girl had long brown hair that went to the middle of her back with a fringe covering the entire right side of her face. To match her hair, the girl had two brown eyes that had been outlined with (waterproof) eyeliner to make them stand out, even though only one eye was visible. She was wearing a long black vest top along with a light gray sleeveless jacket(1), which might as well off been a short dress, with beige arm warmers going just above her elbows with bands around them keeping them in place(2) and white short crop trousers. Currently, the girl wasn't wearing any shoes.

Reborn started to chuckle ''Calm down, Dame-Tsuna, this isn't so bad and if it helps I think this look suits you.'' Not helping with Tsuna's dismay.

Earlier that day

Tsuna was walking home from school thinking over what was just announced at said school.

'_Some of the boys in my class have to dress up as girls for a fund raiser and Reborn has been telling me that some mafia has hired assassins to do me in. Why does my life suck?' _Tsuna thought with dismay.

Walking to his front door, Tsuna felt something hit his head, _hard_, thus knocking him out. Yep, his life sucked.

A few hours after being knocked out, the brunette boy woke up in what he thought looked like a lab, in which case he would be correct.

''Where am I? A lab?'' Tsuna wondered, while looking around finding himself lying on a sofa.

''Verde's lab to be precise, Dame-Tsuna.'' said a familiar, high-pitched voice.

Whipping his head around to the source of the voice ''Reborn! Why am I here?'' the brunette boy asked/demanded his annoying demonic infant hitman tutor.

Smirking, Reborn replied ''I have an idea to hide you, from the assassins sent to kill you, right under their noses. So to answer your question, you are here to get a _make-over_.''

That said, the make-over begun.

Present

So in summary, Tsuna was walking home when Reborn got someone to knock him out to take him to Verde's lab, for some reason, to get a make-over so he looked like a girl, which in fairness isn't hard since Tsuna looks feminine as a boy anyway, to hide him from the assassins but so he can go to school anyway.

''I'm quite surprised we didn't really need to do much. A little eye make-up, brushing and washing your hair, putting you in some girly looking clothes with padding in the chest to make you look like you have under-developed breasts and voila, one _girl_ Dame-Tsuna. Also, it's quite surprising that your natural hair is straight and this long.'' Reborn said, looking over Tsuna.

Shrugging, Tsuna said ''I've always had straight hair but I got bed head really easily so everyone thought my hair was naturally spiky and since I get up late there's no time to brush my hair down. In fact all that time with my bed head made it seem as though my hair didn't need cutting so it being so long doesn't surprise me. Besides, my long hair helps make me long like a girl doesn't it?''

Reborn nodded ''By the way, Verde wants to see you, and before you ask, no I don't know way. Go down the hall to your left, when you leave the room, he's in his techno-lab which is the door at the end of the hall.'' That said, Reborn kicked Tsuna out of the room to go find Verde.

Walking down the hall, the brunette was thinking of different reasons as to why Verde would possibly want to see him. Reaching the door, Tsuna knocked and upon hearing a quiet 'come in' entered the lab.

Verde was sitting at a computer beside which he was using to program a black version of the Ten Year Bazooka. This goes without saying whatever Verde wanted with Tsuna, or wanted him to do, was not going to be good for him (Tsuna).

Turning around Verde started to talk ''Good to see you listened to Reborn and didn't get lost, Tsunayoshi, and that you're transformation went well. I must admit you're not so bad to look at.'' Looking at the brunette with an observing look.

Feeling awkward, said brunette looked at the floor ''So what is it you want to see me about?'' he asked.

Picking up the now programmed bazooka, Verde replied ''This is why I wanted to see you. I've just made this bazooka under the same technological build up as the Ten Year Bazooka, in theory, when shot with this you should be sent to another dimension or time line. However, I do not know how long one would be sent to said other dimension/time line for, that's where you come in. I am going to shot with this bazooka and see however long it takes for you to come back and if you're not back within the day tomorrow then I shall reprogram the bazooka to bring back whoever was shot by it and place a time limit on it myself.''

Now though that explanation, Tsuna picked up on the crucial words in that whole dialogue 'in theory'. ''This means something bad is going to happen to me once I'm shot by that bazooka. I'm basically a guinea-pig! Why does life hate me?' _Tsuna thought in dismay, not noticing the infant aim the bazooka at him.

Snapping out of his self pitying thoughts, the guinea-pig, noticed too late and was shot by the bazooka before he could act.

Fortunately, or unfortunately, said guinea-pig had disappeared before he could see the warning on the computer meaning that he'd be wherever he was sent for a little longer than he or Verde expected.

''Shit! Reborn's not going to give me a second of peace when he finds out what happened to Tsunayoshi.'' Verde cursed to himself.

''What's happened to Tsunayoshi?'' asked Reborn, who appeared out of nowhere, with a serious voice.

''_Shit!''_ was the last thing Verde thought before he explained what happened to Reborn.

>When Worlds Collide

Chapter two

In the woods somewhere

'Hiccup are you sure you saw the smoke come from this direction?'
asked a girl with blonde hair tied back into a braided pony tail(1).

'Yes I'm sure Astrid.' replied an auburn(2) haired boy, now known as Hiccup.

'How did you see the smoke?' 'And when did you see it?' asked a boy and a girl together, who were obviously brother and sister.

'I already told you this back at the village. I was flying around the village on Toothless when we saw a puff of smoke around this area of the woods not so long ago. Ruffnut, Tuffnut why don't you look around on Barf and Belch for a while? They have long necks so you'll see things from a higher view point.' Hiccup told the boy, Tuffnut, and his sister, Ruffnut, who both ran to their two headed dragon named Barf and Belch.

'I think maybe we should start heading back now Hiccup it's getting late and Snotlout is flying on Hookfang right now looking around the area in the air and hasn't come down to notify us that he's seen anything.' said a sturdy boy with a fur tunic(3) pointing at the sky towards a red dragon with a boy on it.

Sighing Hiccup turned to the boy, who had just spoke, 'Look Fishlegs, I know it's getting late and I know that we've found nothing that could of possibly been the source of the smoke, but there is a possibility that Alvin or any of his outcasts are on the island signalling his ships. Or it could be a different threat but then again it could be nothing, it doesn't hurt to know.'
Understanding Hiccup's reasoning the boy, now known as Fishlegs, nodded and continued to look.

A few minutes later

After searching a little more, the boy, Snotlout, on the red dragon, Hookfang, landed near the group of teens and walked over to the group.

'Well, we've circled this area and looked further up the woods as well and there's nothing either me or Hookfang could see that could make smoke. I'm starting to think you imagined the whole thing Hiccup, you and Toothless.' Snotlout said as he walked towards Hiccup, who replied angrily causing an argument to break out.

While Snotlout and Hiccup were arguing and as Astrid and Fishlegs were trying, and failing, to calm them down, Ruffnut and Tuffnut walked over to a bush that looked like it had a foot popping out from behind it. Pushing the leaves of the bush apart, the twins found what was behind the bush.

'Hey, guys!' Tuffnut shouted to get the others attention, but failed.

Pushing back the leaves back a bit more Ruffnut's eyes widened and Tuffnut's shouted 'Guys!' again a little annoyed hearing the bickering continuing behind him.(4)

Hearing Tuffnut's call, the two boys stopped arguing and walked over to the bush Ruffnut and Tuffnut were kneeling at, with Astrid and Fishlegs trailing behind.

'Ruff, Tuff, did you find anything?' Hiccup asked, curious as to what the twins were looking at.

'I'll say.' Ruffnut said, with a hoarse voice while pointing to the body behind the bush.

Now to say that the group was confused would be an understatement, but there isn't a word to describe the extent to which they were confused yet, so confused is the best word. In the bush was a _girl_, a _girl_ with long brown hair that went to the middle of _her _back_ with a fringe covering the entire right side of _her _face_, wearing a long black vest top along with a light gray sleeveless jacket with beige arm warmers going just above her elbows with bands around them keeping them in place and white short crop trousers without any shoes on. Now to any person, from this place, this _girl _looked like an ordinary Viking teenage girl.

'It's a girl.' Snotlout was the one to break the silence, 'A cute girl.' he finished with a smirk, only to receive a slap to the back of the head by Astrid.

'Well done, Snotlout, you know what a girl looks like. The question is why is she here, or how did she get here?' Astrid said, walking closer to the girl 'Is she even alive?' she questioned, concern lacing her voice.

Hiccup was the one to check over the _girl_, 'Yes, she's still breathing I think she's just unconscious. We should take her back to the village to make sure that's all that's wrong. Astrid do you think you can carry her back on Stormfly?' looking at the blonde girl as he asked her, who nodded and lifted the _girl_ onto the back of her multi-horned blue scaled dragon, Stormfly.

All the young Vikings got onto their own dragons and flew back to their village, all curious as to who this unconscious _girl_ was and how she got there.

A few hours earlier

Tsuna had just been shot by the new bazooka Verde had made and was going through a colourful vortex(5) at some speed, then was blinded by a light as he ended his journey. When the light cleared, Tsuna was coughing out the remaining smoke after he transported to wherever he was.

'_Okay, Tsuna where are you? A wood? So after being shot by the bazooka I'm in the woods of a different dimension/timeline. That doesn't answer any of the questions going through my mind right now. I need to find out where I am.' _the brunette thought to himself as he started to walk further into the woods.

After a couple of minutes went by, Tsuna started to feel a headache then he felt dizzy _'Ouch my head hurts! Huh, my visions blurry. Great now I'm going to pass out!' _was the last thing the brunette thought before fainting behind a bush.

Little did Tsuna know that he was in for a surprise when he wakes up.

>When Worlds Collide

Chapter three

Hiccup's house

Hiccup and the others were talking in the front room with Stoick and Gobber, explaining what had happened while Toothless was in Hiccup's room watching over the unconscious _girl._

'So you saw a puff of smoke and went to investigate, then you found the girl behind a bush unconscious and brought her back here? As much as I find your good deed admirable, Hiccup, we don't know who she is and for all we know she could be an outcast or associated with them like Heather was. How can you be sure we can trust her?' Stoick said, voice filled with worry as he looked at his son.

'I understand your concern, dad, but it's not like we could just leave her there, she wasn't moving so she isn't faking to do anything. However, this it I will be a little more careful as to how much information is told to her about our dragons and I won't show her the book either.' Hiccup replied, with a face full of determination.

'But if you want her out of your house, I would be more than happy to take her to my place.' Snotlout said with a smirk all over his face.

'Yeah me too.' this time it was Tuffnut who spoke, with the same smirk on his face. Then again, he always has a smirk on his face.

In Hiccup's room

Toothless was at the bedside watching over the _girl_, who was now starting to wake. Getting excited, Toothless put his face close to the waking _girl_ and started to lick her face. However, disorientated and having never seen any dragon before, the _girl_ screamed and tried to back away from the confused dragon only to get tangled in the fur blanket and landed on the floor.

'_Okay keep calm, Tsuna, there's an over grown reptile in the room and you're on your own. Breathe, maybe this is all a dream and you're still in the woods. Ouch, my head stills hurts!' _Tsuna thought in panic, as he backed into a corner of the room cowering away from the dragon.

Meanwhile downstairs, the group rushed into Hiccup's room as soon as they heard the scream. As they entered the room, they saw the girl that was previously unconscious cowering in a corner of the room as Toothless started to walk over to her to comfort her, which only scared her even more.

Hiccup moved over to the dragon 'Hey bud, maybe you should stay over there for a bit you've startled our guest.' he said calmly as he patted Toothless' head, and then walked over to the girl.

Kneeling Hiccup said 'I'm sorry if Toothless scared you, but he wouldn't hurt you. My name's Hiccup, that's my dad Stoick he's the chief of this village and the guy beside him is Gobber. That's Snotlout, Astrid, twins Ruffnut and Tuffnut, and Fishlegs, and I you've already met Toothless.' pointing to the person he was introducing each time.

Tsuna relaxed a bit 'My name's Tsunayoshi, but you can call me Tsuna. Where am I? Ah, my head hurts.' he asked, though saying the last bit under his breath as he clutched his head.

'You're in my house, in Hiccup's room right now which is in the village of Berk.' Stoick answered Tsuna's question.

However, Snotlout and Tuffnut noticed Tsuna clutch his head earlier on so they sprung into action.

'Hey are you alright? Does your head hurt?' Snotlout asked as he closed in on Tsuna.

'Did you hit your head? Believe I know it hurts after you hit your head. Do you want some water?' Tuffnut asked, which led the fight between Snotlout and Tuffnut as to who was going to help Tsuna and how saw her first.

'Her?' _was the thought that went through Tsuna's mind as he watched to two boys fight. _'Oh yeah, I'm dressed as a girl right now, I guess I'll have to tell them that I'm a boy when the subject comes up again.' _

'So would you like something to eat while you tell us more about yourself and as to how you came to Berk?' Astrid asked as she too walked over to Tsuna, who nodded.

Downstairs

Tsuna was eating some fish with some mutton, along with some water, surrounded by the group of Vikings ready to interrogate him. With Snotlout and Tuffnut coddling him asking if he wanted more fish or water, which Tsuna said no to but he appreciated the thought.

'So Tsuna tell us a bit about yourself.' said Stoick.

Tsuna looked confused 'Like what?'

Gobber answered Tsuna 'Well, tell us a bit about your past something about yourself, like your hobbies, and the last thing you remember in the woods before you past out.'

Nodding Tsuna started to talk 'Where I come from I wasn't really appreciated, I was viewed more as a waste of space. My dad worked most of the time so he was never home and my mum was left to take of me. I was called names like Useless-Tsuna, No Good-Tsuna or Stupid-Tsuna by the other kids my age, which was obviously a hard blow on my self esteem so my reasoning was that if they called me an idiot I'll act like one. So I did, then a guy from my dad's work arrived and said he had been sent by my dad help me learn which was a lie, he was sent to teach me to become leader of a group of people that do bad things but I didn't have a say in the matter so I was forced to do things I didn't want to. I couldn't take being unappreciated and treated like a puppet any longer so I ran away hiding on different boats to leave places that those certain people tracked me to. I don't remember coming to Berk though so I'm a little confused as to how I got here, but the last thing I remember before passing out was that when I stood up I got a bad headache then I felt dizzy, resulting in me passing out.'' Tsuna finished saying this by looking up at Stoick who was nodding in understanding, whereas a few of the teens were giving Tsuna pity looks as Snotlout, Tuffnut and Fishlegs started to cry.

''As for my hobbies,'' the brunette continued ''I actually like to draw, think up stuff that I could make and of course making things that could be useful(1). Although, I haven't been able to do any of those things recently.'' finishing his sentence with a sigh.

'_Wow, she's just like a girl version of Hiccup. Some of her ordeals are like Hiccup's as well.' _Astrid thought to herself.

''Well, you're welcome to stay with us for as long as you want. Hiccup and the others will show you around the village tomorrow and might even show some of the dragons. How does that sound?'' Stoick suggested cheerfully, brightening up the mood.

''Did you have dragons where you grow up?'' Fishlegs asked Tsuna eagerly.

The brunette shook his head ''No where I come from there are no dragons. Hell, we didn't even know dragons existed, that's why I was so scared when I saw Toothless when I woke up.'' patting/stroking Toothless' head as he finished the last sentence, earning some purring growls from the said dragon.

Later in the evening (bedtime)

''Okay Tsuna, you'll be sleeping in my room so me and Toothless will sleep downstairs. Come on, bud.'' Hiccup explained to Tsuna as he left the room.

Grabbing Hiccup's sleeve ''No don't it's your room so you sleep there and I'll sleep downstairs. You've so much for me already I don't want to impose anymore than I am already doing.'' Tsuna said, pushing Hiccup further into his room.

Sighing Hiccup suggested ''How about we alternate who sleeps on the bed. I'll sleep on the bed tonight and I'm sure Toothless wouldn't mind keeping you warm tonight. Then tomorrow night I sleep with Toothless and you'll have the bed, how does that sound?''

Liking the sound of that, Tsuna nodded with a smile and got an extra blanket before going over to Toothless who was waiting for Tsuna on the stone slab he has as a bed.

Snuggling into the dragon's warm side, Tsuna said ''Good night Hiccup. Good night Toothless, see you in the morning.'' receiving a warble from Toothless and a 'good night' from Hiccup.

'_A world with dragons and Vikings. I wonder how my stay in this world will go.' _Tsuna thought to himself before going to sleep.

>When Worlds Collide

Chapter four

The next day, Hiccup woke up early so he could train with the other Viking teens and their dragons, excluding Toothless so he could keep Tsuna warm as he let her have a lie in. However, Snotlout and Tuffnut were all hyped up for Tsuna coming to see them and their dragons later on through the day.

'I bet she'll be so impressed with Belch that she won't even notice you or Hookfang.' Tuffnut boasted, with his chest puffed out.

'No way that would ever happen! The only reason Tsuna would ignore me is, that she'd be so nervous about being around someone as awesome as me. Besides, Hookfang is so much cooler. He's a Monstrous Nightmare, and Belch is a Hideous Zippleback. Hookfang is way cooler.' Snotlout replied back, with his usual arrogant tone.

After hearing enough of Snotlout and Tuffnut's arguing, Astrid decided to step in.

'Listen you two, Tsuna will be here to see ALL of our dragons not just yours.' she said, in her angry tone which meant she didn't want to hear another word.

'Besides, don't you remember she said that where she came from they didn't have any dragons, or even know they existed. In my opinion, I think Tsuna will find ALL of our dragons amazing.' Fishlegs said, as he came back from where ever he had been.

After a few more minutes of training, Hiccup gathered the group of teens and told them to keep on practising and to keep up the good work.

'Alright guys, I'm going back to my house and wake up Tsuna so we can introduce our dragons to her. Then after that we will give her a tour of Berk on the ground and by air.' Hiccup announced, with a smile on his face.

With that said, Hiccup left to retrieve Tsuna, who had just woken up a few minutes earlier.

Hiccup's room â€" a few minutes earlier

Tsuna had just begun to wake up, when he felt something long and wet lick his face continuously. Opening his eyes, the small brunette discovered that it was Toothless who was licking his face. As Toothless continued to lick Tsuna, the said brunette started to giggle at the over grown reptile's friendly antics.

'Morning Toothless- yes it's good to see you too. It must be a bit more pleasant for you now, seeing as how I'm not screaming and backing away from you as you wake me up.' Tsuna said, while giggling and received a purring growl that suggested Toothless agreed with what Tsuna had just said.

'_I'm just happy you're not scared of me anymore. I was hurt when you backed away from me, I thought you didn't like me because of my appearance. You don't know how relieved I'm that it just turned out that you didn't know dragons existed, you had a reason to be frightened.' _said a deep, happy voice, that brought Tsuna comfort.

Confused Tsuna looked around the room as, Toothless nuzzled his head into Tsuna's stomach purring, looking for whomever the voice belonged to but found that he and Toothless were the only ones in the room.

'_Maybe I imagined the voice unless- no there's no way that's possible.' Tsuna thought to himself, trying to figure out who could have talked or if he just imagined it.

'_Just your heavenly scent is enough to calm me and I bet it will be the same with the other dragons.' _said the voice again, however this time Tsuna knew who was talking.

'TOOTHLESS?! You're talking to me but you're a dragon so you shouldn't be able to speak, should you?' Tsuna ranted, as the dragon looked at him with confusion and happiness.

'_Wait, you can understand me? No one has ever been able to understand dragonese _*(1)*_ before. Furthermore, to answer your question on whether I can speak the answer is no. At least not in the way humans can, but you can understand what I'm saying. Maybe it's something to do with your presence.' _Toothless said, with the usual growls and purrs he makes.

'My presence? What about it?' the brunette asked the dark scaled reptile.

'_You have a certain aura about you that makes me feel calm, but it also makes me feel protective of you. It's like my natural instincts are telling me that __absolutely no harm should ever come to you__. I must protect you, even more than my need to protect Hiccup and that's saying something since he's my best, and dearest friend.' _Toothless said, getting as close to Tsuna as he could get.

After making this discovery, Tsuna and Toothless spent some time talking about random things and some things in their pasts, like how Toothless and Hiccup met or about fights they had fought.

'Oh yeah, I just thought 'Toothless' is the name Hiccup gave you, right? So did you already have a name before that?' the small brunette asked, curiosity filling his voice.

Toothless looked at Tsuna, with a smile in his eyes, _'Yes I do have a real name. It's Roarke. _*(2) *_The other dragons real names too, but we respond to what our trainers call us.' ' _he replied, lifting his head and ears in alert as he heard the front door open and close.

Hiccup entered the room seconds later and smiled at Tsuna.

' 'Wow, the both of you seem to be on good terms already. Come on, the others and I want to show you the rest of the dragons, then we'll give a tour of Berk on the ground and from the air.' ' Hiccup said this with a smile as he helped Tsuna to his feet.

' 'That sounds great!' ' Tsuna replied, with a cheerful tone.

Dragon Training Academy

The other Viking teens were waiting at the academy for Hiccup and Tsuna, with their dragons. Once they saw the people they were waiting for they went over to greet them.

' 'Hey Tsuna, I bet you can't wait to see Hookfang/Belch.' ' Snotlout and Tuffnut said in unison, before breaking out into a fight.

Astrid and Fishlegs shared greeting with small brunette, then went onto describe their dragons.

' 'So, Stormfly is called a Deadly Nadder, and Meatlug is a Gronkle, right?' ' Tsuna asked curiously.

Fishlegs was the one to answer, ' 'That is correct. A Gronkle has jaw strength 8-' ' then continues on a long lecture on the different dragons at the academy.

Timeskip

After being introduced to all the dragons and after the tour of Berk on the ground, it was time for the flight around Berk.

Tsuna felt very excited and nervous at the same time, excited because he would be riding on a dragon and nervous because he was afraid to fall off whatever dragon he'd be riding on.

' 'Okay Tsuna, choose which dragon you want to ride on. None of us mind you riding with us and-' ' Hiccup started, but was interrupted by all the dragons crowding around Tsuna growling and purring to get his attention.

To those looking at the scene, they saw the dragons crowding around Tsuna growling and purring, or nuzzling in Toothless' case, trying to get the small brunette's attention. However, what was really happening was that the dragons were trying to convince Tsuna to them.

' '_Tsuna, ride on me with Astrid. I will ensure that you see the true beauty of Berk from the air.' ' _Stormfly said, trying to push the other dragons away in the process.

' '_No Tsuna, ride on us. Ruff and Tuff are very funny when they start to fight. Besides, we have two heads and separate personalities, it's a perfect 'two for one' experience.' ' _Barf and Belch argued.

'_Ride me, Tsuna. Fishlegs can inform you about some facts of Berk.' _Meatlug said, trying to persuade Tsuna into riding her.

'_You don't want to fly on any of these losers. Ride on me and it'll be the best experience of your life.' _Hookfang tried to smooth talk, apparently he was a bit like Snotlout.

'_Come on Tsuna ride with Hiccup. I want to make sure you are safe and I'm sure if you and Hiccup had the chance to talk you'd find out the pair of you have a lot in common.' _Toothless purred, while nuzzling Tsuna's stomach.

Feeling a little overwhelmed and claustrophobic from the attention he was getting, Tsuna backed away from the dragons and did the only thing he thought would help.

Taking a deep breath, Tsuna looked at the selection of dragons and shouted 'ALL OF YOU SIT!' which they (the dragons) did wagging their tails once their scaly behinds had touched the floor.

'Now I appreciate that you all like me so much that you all wish for to ride you. However, before I arrived at the academy I had already decided to ride with Hiccup and Toothless for the flight tour, but don't worry I'm sure I'll get the chance to ride on all of you, okay? So, no hard feelings?' Tsuna said the last bit with a tilt of the head.

All the sitting dragons, who looked more like scaly puppies from the small brunette's point of view, gave a roar of agreement and Toothless bound up to Tsuna so he could lick his face. Completely, unaware of the group of Viking teens staring at Tsuna and their dragons' behaviour with jaws on the floor.

Chapter 5

Outside the Dragon Training Academy

After the odd display the dragons and Tsuna provided, the dragon trainers were confused as to what brought said display on. Also the clear sign of obedience of their dragons towards a complete stranger concerned them.

While Tsuna was devoting _her _attention towards Toothless, the group of Viking teens gathered and conversed.

'What in Thor's name was that about?' Astrid voiced, suspicion and annoyance in her voice.

'Yeah, the dragons were all over her. Like she has dragon nip on her or something.' Ruffnut said, with the same emotions in her voice as Astrid, but only because of how confusing the situation is.

'Now I'm sure there's a logical explanation to all this,' Hiccup reasoned, 'Remember when Heather was here, Stormfly warmed up to her instantly. This is probably like then except all our dragons are warming up to the stranger.'

Fishlegs spoke up next, 'Hiccup may be onto something, and if anything shouldn't we take the fact ALL the dragons like her as a sign she doesn't mean any harm.'

'Yeah, we shouldn't suspicious of the future Mrs Jorgenson!' Snotlout exclaimed.

'What do you mean Mrs Jorgenson?! Tsuna's the future Mrs Thorston!' Tuffnut shouted at Snotlout.

At this Astrid and Ruff stooped over to the now bickering boys and slapped them over the heads.

'You idiots!' the girls stated.

Over with Tsuna and the other dragons

'What do you think they're talking about?' Tsuna wondered out loud, while scratching the Night Fury's head.

'_I have no idea. Maybe Snotlout and Tuffnut are arguing about you again.' _said Night Fury replied.

Tsuna looked confused, 'Agruging about me? About what?' he asked.

The dragons all looked at one another, _'If you don't know, nevermind.'' _They said in unison.

Stormfly butted the petit brunette's back at garbled, _''Don't worry about those two idiots. They're delusional.'' _while earning a pat on the snout from Tsuna.

''_Yeah, just think about the flight we're about to have.'' _Toothless said, while nuzzling Tsuna's stomach.

Tsuna smiled at the display of affection and looked up to the group of teens just in time to see Snotlout and Tuff get their heads slapped by the girl Vikings. _'Toothless is right. The flight is going to be fun.'_

''Yeah you're right. I just hope I don't fall off mid-flight.'' the brunette laughed, nervously.

This got an immediate reaction from all the dragons, _''NO WAY IN HEL OR VALHALLA ARE WE GOING TO LET ANY HARM COME TO YOU!'' _roared to overgrown reptiles, to Tsuna's surprise and confusion.

The group of teens, having heard the dragons sudden outburst of roars, came running trying to calm down the flying lizards to prevent any harm befalling Tsuna.

''Hey come on, Barf/Belch/Hookfang/Stormfly/Meatlug/Toothless calm down.'' The trainers said.

Astrid and Fishlegs, having calmed down their dragons first, turned to the confused brunette, ''What did you do?'' Astrid demanded.

Tsuna looked at the girl wide eyes, ''I have no idea. I merely commented that I hope I won't fall off of Toothless' back mid-flight. Then they started to roar like that.''

Having calming down the rest of the dragons, the other teens walked over and looked at Astrid, who was now glaring at Tsuna. They too were concerned about what happened to have made their dragons act like that, but they would worry about that later. Right now they had to distract Astrid from Tsuna and continue onto the tour of Berk from the air.

''Come on how about we worry about this incident later and go for a fly. Okay, guys.'' Hiccup said, trying to dispel the tense atmosphere.

Thankfully, this got Tuff and Snotlout trying to convince Tsuna who to ride with, unaware that that decision had already been made. *(1) The two boys bickering seemed to lighten to atmosphere to the point that the previous occurrence was swept under the rug and the trainers mounted their dragons to start their flight.

Having Hiccup help him onto Toothless' back, which turned out to be unnecessary since the Night Fury crouched low to the ground to make it easier for Tsuna to get on, the auburn haired trainer mounted the black scaled, winged reptile and told Tsuna to hold on. And with that said, all the dragons took flight.

Chapter 6

And with that said, all the dragons took flight.

Hiccup's POV

As Toothless zoomed into the air, Tsuna tightened her arms round my waist and screamed loudly. _'Oh Thor, she's terrified. Just like Astrid was. I got to get Toothless to slow down.' _I looked to the other riders and they looked at her with sympathy and concern. Well, Tuffnut Snotlout and Fishlegs did. Astrid rolled her eyes, _who is she to judge she did the same thing_, and Ruffnut with a mix of confusion and concern.

As Toothless was about to level off, I was going to tell him to slow down, but then I decided to try and Tsuna down, ''Hey it's okay. Toothless is just being a little enthusi-' my sentence was cut off by;

''Whoo, this is awesome! You guys get to do this all the time?!'' I heard Tsuna yell, behind me. _'Wow, she isn't even phased.'_

She loosened her arms and held them in the air, whooping as Toothless flew straight. The others looked at her with smiles, Tuff and my cousin a little more than smitten. Our dragons seemed to react positively to Tsuna's clear enjoyment.

We started the air tour by flying around the harbours, then we moved onto the plaza. Next, we flew around the woods and I pointed out the cove where I bonded with Toothless, each place we flew to I could feel Tsuna's arms tighten around my waist and her chest pressed against my back. I had to keep my head low to hide to my obviously red face.

''Hey, Hiccup?'' I heard the brunette girl say.

''Yeah? What is it?''

I could feel her press up against my back, ''What's it like? To ride a dragon, I mean like you know being ''in control''. You know what I mean, right?'' I knew she was having a hard time trying to find her words, but I did know what she meant. Then, I had an idea.

However, I realised something, the sun was starting to go down and I wanted to show Tsuna the picturesque sight I show practically everyone was rides on Toothless with me.

'Hey, Tsuna. Look up.' I knew she was looking at the view below, and I definitely knew when she looked at what I wanted her to, because I heard her gasp.

*Tsuna's POV ****

Whilst looking at the view of the cliffs and stone columns at sea which bled into the beach areas, I heard Hiccup tell me to look up and I did. I have got to say that what was in front of me was the best view by far out of the whole tour.

The sun was setting and the light provided by the horizon gave the clouds a pink hue with the blue sky peeking out between the gaps. I couldn't help but gasp. I could feel Hiccup's back vibrate a little, like he was laughing then I looked at his face and saw a smirked. _'He so planned this.' _I thought to myself, amused.

'You totally saved this last didn't you?' I inquired, to which the auburn haired boy looked back at me with a smirk.

'What gave it away?' he joked, with a grin spreading across his face.

What I did next confused me, and I have absolutely no idea why I did it.

I *hugged *from where I was sitting behind him and rested my cheek on his back and whispered, so only he could hear, 'Thank you Hiccup. This was really fun.'

Hiccup's POV

I felt Tsuna *hug *me from behind and heard her say 'Thank you' and she told me that she had fun. I could feel the blood rush to my face and looked ahead. _'Oh Loki's pants, I hope she can't feel my heart beat fast through my back.' _

'Don't thank me just yet.' This got her attention, 'Why?' she asked.

'Because, we're going to land for a bit then _you're _going to be in control of Toothless. But don't worry I'll talk you through what you're to do.' I explained.

Tsuna gasped again, 'Really?! You mean it?!' I nod, 'Wow, thanks Hiccup! But are you sure I hadn't even had any encounters with dragons until yesterday, do you really want me to take the reins so soon.' She asked, clearly insecure.

I started to steer Toothless to land and told her, 'I have faith in you. Besides I don't expect you to nail dragon riding the very first time you try it. I expect you to make mistakes but you'll be on Berk for a while right? So you can get some practise in.' I could feel her body shake so I assumed she was nodding.

Once we landed and I dismounted I was going to help Tsuna down before

I instruct her on how to mount Toothless, but that turned out to be unnecessary since Toothless crouched low to the ground like when she was getting on, so Tsuna's feet were close to the ground. Then, when Tsuna had got off, I told how to mount Toothless and put her feet in the stirrups.

As the brunette was adjusting to her new position on the saddle, I heard multiple pairs of boots stomp up behind me. It was Snotlout and Tuffnut, honestly I should have guessed.

I forced a smile, ''Hey Tuff, cuz. What's up?'' unfortunately I knew what was up.

Snotlout grabbed me by the collar and lifted me a little, ''_What's up, cuz, _is you're making the moves on my girl.''

''You're girl?! She's my girl!'' Tuffnut exclaimed.

Snotlout rolled his eyes, ''The point is, metal foot here, is making the moves on her. When it is so obvious that we had dibs.''' he started to shake me a bit.

Then, I heard a roar and the next thing I saw was black(?)

With Tsuna whilst Hiccup is being threatened

Tsuna was getting used to being in a saddle and the Night Fury he said saddle was attached to, seemed to like that where Tsuna was sitting. (A/N I know that sounded dirty but I didn't know how else to word it TT_TT)

''_This is going to be so much fun! I can't wait until we're in the air. You'll find being the rider is different than being the passenger.''' _said the dark scaled reptile, excitedly.

Tsuna smiled, ''Yeah neither can I. Hey, Toothless?'' _''Yes?'' _Tsuna shifted a little as he tried to find his words, ''Is it me but doesn't this just feelâ€|right? I mean me and on your back, in the saddle.''

The Night Fury paused for a second, _''Yeah, it does. Maybe you were born to be a dragon rider.''' _the dragons tone became very serious, then, _''Maybe when Hiccup is busy and can't go flying we can do a circuit of the island.''' _back to his playful tone.

Tsuna shook his head, ''Maybe, but that would be for Hiccup to decide. He's the boss isn't he?'' chuckling as the winged reptile gave his equivalent of a laugh.

''_I wonder where Hiccup went he was right beside me just now.''' _Tsuna wondered as he looked around for the said auburn teen. When the small brunette finally saw where Hiccup went, it was just in time to see Snotlout grab him by his collar.

Panicking, ''Hey Toothless, aren't all the trainers friends?'' he asked the Night Fury, who looked at him then at the scene that fashioned Tsuna's question.

''_They are kind of. Snotlout is Hiccup's cousin and is a bit of a meat head. So is Tuffnut but I'm not sure what has caused them to get riled up.'' _the dragon replied calmly.

Aghast Tsuna looked at the dragon, who could observe such a situation so calmly, then said, ''Well then, I think we should do something to interfere.'' However, feeling the dragon give a shrug told him (Tsunagi) that he (Toothless) wasn't going to do anything, ''Now'' the small brunette said, with a force which caused the over-grown, winged lizard to do as he was told.

With a roar, Toothless ran/flew over to the three Viking teens, and used his wing to separate Hiccup from his cousin's grip.

''Hey, Hiccup can we go now?'' Tsuna asked in a, anything but, sweet tone.

Recovering, Hiccup nodded and got onto Toothless behind Tsuna, whilst the other two boys moved back to their own dragons.

''Thanks for that.'' Hiccup appreciated.

Tsuna smiled, ''No problem. Now what do I do?''

Chapter 7

Tsuna smiled, ''No problem. Now what do I do?''

Hiccup chuckled and started to instruct Tsuna as to how to take off, ''First you-'' however, his instructions were unheard as the petit brunette spaced out.

''_Feel the wind. Listen to it. Do what your instincts tell you.'
_a voice in Tsuna's head told him, as his eyes and Toothless' eyes glaze over.

The trainers noticing the change in both the girl and rare dragon, got concerned. Especially, when they saw the glassy look in the two's eyes.

''Um, Tsuna are you okay? Did you hear anything Hiccup told you?'' Fishlegs asked.

Then as soon as he finished his sentence, whatever trance Tsuna and Toothless were in, broke. The brunette slumped forward a little so his hair covered his eyes, which had changed. The once caramel brown eyes had converted to a piercing, pale emerald green and the pupils had dilated into slits. All in all, Tsuna's eyes had become reptilian. Toothless pupils had dilated too.

Then, as if they had been doing it for years, Tsuna and Toothless took to the sky, which shocked the dragon riders left on the ground as they quickly followed suit.

Astrid's POV

After Tsuna and Toothless took off, they started to perform some aerial acrobatics, bob and weaving between the stone columns with expert precision. They were flying better than any of us put together.

Hiccup's POV

Tsuna took to flying like a duck to water. It's as if she was born to fly. _She's really in her element. _I couldn't help but think. (A/N oh if only he knewXD)

Both of them seem to be in sync, like Toothless knows exactly what Tsuna is going to do next and, maybe, vice versa. As much as Toothless and I were good flying partners, these two seem to have it down to an art. _Their movements are fluid. Is this what flying with Toothless would be like if he still had his tailfin?_

As we zoomed about in the air, and as I admired the small girl's natural talent. I hadn't noticed the others trying, but failing to keep up with us.

*Time skip ****

Third person POV

As Tsuna and Toothless landed, and the other dragon riders finally caught up. The petit brunette's eyes reverted back to their usual caramel brown.

Hiccup dismounted looking at Tsuna, who was following suit, in shock and awe. Then, Tsuna's two admirers came over and started to shower her with compliments.

'Wow, you were amazing!' or 'You're a natural!' or 'Are you sure you haven't ridden a dragon before?' to list a few.

'Yeah, you were great. Tuff and Snotlout are right, you're a natural.' Hiccup complimented, 'How did you figure out what to do? I know for a fact you didn't take in anything I said.' he asked.

Tsuna smiled at the auburn teen weakly, then as he was about to answer his eyes rolled into his head and he fainted. Acting quick Hiccup caught the brunette before he fell.

'Tsuna?! TSUNA! Are you alright, can you hear me?!' he asked to the unconscious girl in his arms, but got no response.

Looking up to the other riders, 'I'm taking her home. Can you guys get Gothi and tell her to come to my house?' the Viking teen asked, his fellow trainers, who nodded and ran into town to do as he asked.

Looking back down at Tsuna, who was now being nuzzled and cooed at by a concerned Night Fury, ''Come on, bud. We better get her home and in bed, then wait for Gothi.''

Said Night Fury gave an affirmative coo, and let his friend mount him with the unconscious girl propped against his (Hiccup) chest. (1) Hiccup glanced down at Tsuna, once again, with concern. _'What's wrong? What happened to you? Are you going to be okay?' _were the thoughts that ran through his head as he rode Toothless back to his house.

Chapter 8

Hiccup's house

His room

Hiccup had placed Tsuna on his bed and began to wait for Gothi and the others, when Stoick and Gobber rushed into the room with the desired people not far behind them.

'Hiccup! What happened?' Stoick asked, looking over the unconscious girl with concern.

'Yeah, the chief and I were talking to Gothi when this lot came over saying Tsuna fainted. Not only that these two mutton-heads-' pointing at Tuffnut and Snotlout, 'Were wailing about their future wife being ill.'

Hiccup turned to the two mutton-heads on question with a raised eyebrow when a voice called out behind him, 'Oh, those two are getting married? Who?'

All occupants of the room turned in surprise to the source of the voice, Tsuna. Toothless happy to see the girl awake walked up to the bed and started to cooed and nuzzle her, letting the girl know he was glad she was okay.

'Oh thank Thor! My future-' Tuff and Snotlout started only to be interrupted by a roar from the Night Fury, eyes dilated.

'_Those two idiots wish they were getting married.' _said/growled the dragon.

Tsuna smiling then looked up to see the other people in the room look at him in shock, 'What's wrong?' tilting her head in confusion.

Recovering from his shock Hiccup spoke up, 'We went out flying. You showed real talent, then when we landed you fainted just as you were about to dismount.' his explanation was met with a surprised look from the small brunette, 'Don't you remember that?' Tsuna shook her head.

Stoick spoke up next, 'Have you ever been known to faint like that before? Or have any illnesses?' in a professional tone.

Once again Tsuna shook her head, then looked at Gothi, 'Hello, my name is Tsunayoshi, but you can call me Tsuna. It a pleasure to meet you.' smiling at the elderly woman who returned it and started to draw symbols on the floor.

The petit brunette looked at them and, somehow, understood them, and just as Gobber was about to translate, 'It's nice to meet you, Gothi. But as you can see, I'm fine so you giving me a check-up is unnecessary. However, feel free to if it will put you mind at ease.' finishing with a charming smile.

Then the just recovered from shock occupants' jaws dropped to the floor. _'How in Helheim did she understand that?!',_ was the collective thought among the teens and the chief and his right-hand man.

Gothi, unfazed, began to examine the girl. Finding nothing wrong with Tsuna, told the group in the room, then asked them to leave the room so she could 'speak' with girl. Without a single protest, not even a peep from the mutton-heads or dragon, they left the room.

Once alone, Gothi turned to Tsuna and started to draw symbols on the floor again. 'So, why is a young boy such as yourself, dressed up as a girl?' **

Tsuna's eyes widened then laughed, 'You're the only one to notice. Though in fairness, I do make a convincing one, don't I?'

The elderly woman smiled, amused, and then nodded, 'You do not need to worry about me telling anyone.' Tsuna's eyes widened, again, in confusion, 'Why?' 'Because I find it amusing wondering how long it will take that group to figure it out. So can I ask you to humour this old woman by playing a long for a while.' **

With that Tsuna started to laugh out right, but the laughter died down after a couple of seconds, 'So I fainted earlier on, right?' the old woman nodded, 'And you can't find anything wrong with me.' Gothi's face became unreadable. _'Oh dear I've seen that face before. And that face is never good.' _ A worried Tsuna thought to himself.

'Well, I didn't find anything _wrong, _but different.'
cue confused expression from Tsuna, 'Not bad different but the opposite. You have a natural calm yet powerful presence to you.
Furthermore, when I look at you I can't help but feel like I'm looking at the sky.' cue wide eyes, 'I think the natural flying talent might have something to do with that.'

'_It must be my sky flames. So I still have them here.' _Tsun thought to himself. He then looked at Gothi and nodded in understanding. (1)

Time skip

Dragon Academy **

Tsun having been allowed to leave bed, by Hiccup, was walking to the Academy to see the dragon trainers in action. However, the scene that met him confused him.

'This is over.' said, the female twin Ruffnut.

'Yeah, it's so over it's under.' added Tuffnut, as he and his sister stomped off away from one another.

Walking further into the arena, Tsuna walked over to the group whilst looking at the abandoned, twin-headed dragon, 'What happened?' he asked, walking closer to Barf and Belch who were looking for comfort.

Fishlegs explained what happened, 'But I've not seen them act like this.' worried about the apparently odd behaviour of the twin thrill seekers.

After thinking for a second, Tsuna spoke, 'They both ride Barf and Belch right?' the group nodded, the dragon in question butted Tsun's stomach in confirmation, 'Well, from their perspective, they probably have to share everything, not just as brother and sister but as twins, right? Maybe that's the reason, the constant sharing of their things and not having something of their own, might have got to them.'

There was a stunned silence, then the group of Viking teens all started to laugh. Rather enthusiastically.

'Hahahaha, those two wouldn't be bothered by something like that. Oh the thought is just so funny.' Astrid said between her laughs.

'Yeah it's probably something else.' Hiccup added.

'Him too, huh? My HI has never led me wrong before, so I know I'm more or less right.' _the irritated brunette thought to himself.

Annoyed by the groups oblivious insensitivity, Tsuna turned on his heel and started to head towards the arena's exit, 'Come Barf, Belch. Let's go and find those two.', calling over his shoulder to the dragon, who scuttled over and followed Tsuna like a puppy.

Confused the group looked over towards the spot where Tsuna had been previously, ''What got into her?'' Astrid questioned.

The rest of the group shrugged in reply. Then with that they were dismissed for the day.

Time skip

Hiccup's POV

I had come home to see my father trying to get his ceremonial belt on, with Gobber's help, for the annual peace treaty signing, then was tasked with the hiding of the dragons. _At least I won't need to keep Dagur occupied._

I went to find the other trainers and told them the situation, then whilst we were herding up the dragons, I heard Snotlout make so stupid comment of how Dagur was so cool. _Yeah try saying that after being on the receiving end of his bullying._

Then suddenly Barf and Belch came out of nowhere. So we had to try, but failed, to get them under control. _Wait did they leave with Tsuna yesterday? Did something happen to her?_ However, I had other problems, the Berserkers had arrived and I had to let dad know that Barf and Belch were loosed.

The Docks

I ran up to my father and Gobber, ''Hey dad-'' I started only to be silenced by 'Not now son, Osvald is here.' Then I had to listen to a dramatic announcement of the arrival of Berserker chief. _Quite a violent list of 'achievements' for such a peaceful man. _I thought to myself then:

''Dagur the Deranged!''

_Oh Loki's pants! _I thought as Dagur threw a dagger at my head. _Just like when we were kids._

My father asked Dagur where Osvald was, to be told he had 'retired', but I knew it was probably something different than what he said it was. Then I had to listen to Dagur accuse us of amassing dragon army and witness a stare off between Dagur and my dad, before I quietly slipped away to find Barf and Belch.

''Oh this is bad. This is really bad, I have to find that Zippleback.'' I thought out loud, when Astrid pulled me aside.

''Hiccup we have a problem.'' She said.

''Yeah you're telling me. Dagur's the new Berserker chief. His father 'retired' and he thinks we're hiding dragons.'' I told her.

''Well we kind of are.'' she pointed out, ''Which brings us to our next problem.'' She points at the ground and I look down to see a Hideous Zippleback print. _Oh no there's only one Zippleback that can belong to._

'Barf?! Belch?! Here?!' I exclaim, to then hear the very dragon we have been looking for garble while trying to eat some fish out of a basket.

Astrid and I tried to move them, since we could hear my dad and Dagur head towards us. Which workedâ€¦for ten seconds as Barf and Belch run out again just when Dagur enters to the food storage.

Then as we run after them, I hear, 'Boring! I want to see the dragon killing things.' _Will he ever grow up?_

Unfortunately, Astrid and I lost Barf and Belch, again, so I had to run off to find my dad and tell him what's happening.

The Armoury

As I neared the armoury, I could hear Dagur was trying out a sword by pretending to kill an invisible dragon and Gobber make Gobber make a comment then hear Dagur complain about his father.

I then saw Barf and Belch wondering outside of my destination, so I rushed over to try and rally them but when I got to where I saw them, they were gone.

'Barf, Belch!' I call out, then the heads of the dragon I'd been looking for, popped down beside my head.

'Guys, you can't be here. Come on, what do I do? Think like Ruffnut and Tuffnut.' I realised in shock what I had just said, 'I can't believe I just said that. Barf, Belch sky!' I say as I copy what I saw the twins do at the academy, but they didn't respond.

Hearing the door of the armoury open and Dagur coming outside I closed my eyes and waited for the inevitable.

'Ah Hiccup, there you are.' I hear Dagur say.

I open my eyes, 'Dagur! I was just thinking about you. Remember that time we went swimming and you tried to drown me.' I say, laughing nervously.

The Berserker chief laughed too, then stopped when he got bored of 'reminiscing'. However, he stopped suddenly and said the words I hoped he wouldn't say.

'Something is going on here.' he turns around.

'I can explain.'

'Where is it?' he asked/demanded, with his hands in his waist.

I was about to spill the beans when, 'Your leg.'

Oh thank the Gods.

Dagur told me he had heard the story of how I defeated the Red Death and retaliated my question of 'how does someone train a dragon?' I then tried to move the subject onto getting something to eat just as my dad and Gobber came outside.

'Hey Hiccup! What's going on around here?' we heard a voice call out. _Oh there she is._

*Dagur's POV ****

Just as Stoick and his peg-legged lackey, came out and joined the runt, Hiccup and I outside. I hear an unfamiliar voice call out.

'Hey Hiccup! What's going on around here?' asked the voice. _Great probably some pathetic friend of the runt. _I won't even bother to look at them.

The Berk chief, his lackey and son, look towards the source of the voice, 'Tsun! There you are you were acting weird earlier on. And why are you wet?' I hear, the runt say. _Tsun? Can't say I've met this person. _Curiosity getting the better of me, I start to turn round.

'Yeah funny story.' said the owner of the voice, chuckling, 'Who's this?' she asked. _How can this worm not know of me?! Dagur the Deranged?!

I finally turn around completely to see who could possibly not of heard of me, when the sight that met me was not the one I thought I would see. A girl, who was currently soaked all over, with long brown hair and matching eyes, was wringing out her wet hair. Then when she had finished with her task, she flicked her hair to get rid of any left water then walked over to us (A/N think of the scene from the first movie, when Hiccup is looking at Astrid in slow motion)

Wow! She is something to look at. And she's friends with the runt?

When she finally got to us, Stoick started the introductions, 'Tsun, this is the Chief of the Berserker tribe. He's here to sign the treaty, which should be done annually.' she glances at him, then looks at me with a smile, 'Dagur, this is Tsun. She's only arrived on Berk recently.'

I held out my hand, which she took, 'Dagur the Deranged, at your service.' her smile widens 'It's a pleasure to meet you, Dagur the Deranged.' _Oh yeah, she wants me._

My musings were put to a halt as Stoick told me we were going to the great hall to eat, to which I grinned and turned to Tsun, 'I hope you'll be joining us, right, Tsun?'

She nodded, 'If that's alright, but I think I should go and get changed into some dry clothes.' said with a smile.

My grin widens, 'Splendid, I'll be waiting. I'll save you a space. Right. Next. To. Me.' I emphasise each word as I get closer to her face.

Tsun's POV

'Splendid, I'll be waiting. I'll save you a space. Right. Next. To. Me.' Dagur emphasises each word as he gets closer to my face. _Ever heard of personal space._

I force another smile, ''I'm glad to hear that. I shouldn't be long.'' to which he grins even more, if that's possible.

Then as I walk away, the Berserker chief grabs my arm then brings his mouth closer to my ear, ''I'll be waiting.'' Then walks off towards Hiccup and the others.

_Oh why does life hate me? And why did I agree to humour Gothi? _I thought in dismay as I walked towards Hiccup's house. He wouldn't mind if I borrow his clothes would he?

* * *

>see what i meanXD after rewatching the Defenders of Berk episode where they're only dragon island and Hiccup meets Dagur and at the end Dagur says something about Hiccup making a fool out of him or fooling him(can't really remember lol) i couldn't help but think of what would happen when Dagur finds out they're smitten/in love with a boyXD

Apologises for any spelling/grammar mistakes I missed and for the possible, constant changing of tenses.

I â€" okay basically Tsuna DOESN'T have his sky flames, but his abilities have adapted and changed to suit the dimension he is in. so basically he can understand/converse/control, any/all beings involved with sky and said beings can't help but want to protect/love him, like the Guardians.

Chapter 9

Hiccup's POV

After having to witness the disturbing display Dagur gave, trying to flirt with Tsuna, _poor girl, _dad told me to get Barf and Belch out of the village. So, I found Astrid so we could try and find the twins, since they were the only ones who could get that dragon under control.

The twin's house

Astrid and I enter the house and look around for the people we were looking for, when:

'What are you guys doing here?' Tuffnut asked as he swung down from above the doorway.

Astrid and I look up, 'Hey Tuffnut, feel like talking?' I say.

'Um, can you come down?' Astrid asks.

Tuffnut answers with, 'Whatever.' Then flips down from his perk, landing hard on his feet.

He chuckles as the blood flows away from his head, 'Yeah, I love that part.'

I try to explain to him about the 'Barf and Belch' situation, but the moment I mention him having to work with his sister, he refuses.

'Nuh uh, no thank you. I'm officially out of the dragon business and the sister businessâ€|the dragon and sister businessâ€|the dristâ€|.isterâ€|ness.' he said.

Astrid looks at him and asks, 'What's going on with you two?'

'Simple,' he grabs a spoon, 'See what this is.'

'A spoon?' I answer/ask, not sure where this was going.

Tuff rolls his eyes, 'NO, it's OUR spoon. Just like this is OUR dish and OUR axe. And OUR well-groomed stuffed yak. Everything is 'ours', I'm sick of 'ours'. Just once I want something to just be mine,' he looks annoyed, 'Now if you excuse me, I have to pack up MY half of the yak.' As he storms pass us.

Concerned I ask where he was going, to which he reply, 'To my dark soggy alone place. Not to cry.' Then with that he ran out the house.

Astrid and I look at each other in confusion, when we heard:

'I hate to say I told you so, but I will.'

We turn to look at a now dry Tsuna.

Tsuna's POV

After I had changed into some of Hiccup's clothes, I started to walk over to the Great Hall to join Stoick and the psychopath for something to eat. When I saw Hiccup and Astrid enter a house, curiosity getting the best of me I head over towards them.

I had reached the house to discover it belonged to the twins and was just in time to hear that the 'having to share everything bothered them' theory of mine was correct. Then as Tuffnut ran out the house, not noticing me in his rush, I saw Hiccup and Astrid appear in the doorway.

'I hate to say I told you so, but I will,' they looked at me with wide eyes, 'I. Told. You. So.' emphasising each word by prodding them both in the shoulders.

They looked at me guiltily, 'You guys were real jerks earlier on. Just because someone may act 'hard-core' and it may seem like nothing can bother them, you have no idea what's going on inside.' I glare at them as they look at the ground, Toothless who I hadn't noticed was there glared at them too.

Feeling like they had suffered enough, 'Anyway, Astrid, you should probably go look for them again and get the others to help too. Whilst Hiccup and I go to the Great Hall and 'entertain' a psychopath.'

The blonde haired girl nodded and runs off with Toothless running after her, 'What was Toothless doing in the village anyway? Aren't you guys trying to hide dragons?' I then turn to Hiccup who looks at me with wonder, 'What is it?' I ask.

'Firstly, how did you know that? That we were hiding the dragons, I mean. Secondly, can you now explain to me why you were soaked to the bone earlier? And, lastly, are those my clothes?' he listed off his questions, and then pointed to his clothes at his final question.

I chuckle, 'I had a hunch when I got back into the village and there wasn't a dragon in sight, then when your father introduced me to the Berserker chief, kind of made it clear you're hiding the dragons from him for political reasons.' he nods his head in understanding, 'To answer your second question, when I left with Barf and Belch we started to look for Ruffnut and Tuffnut. Then at some point they wanted to search via air, so they grabbed me and started flying around the island. However, at some point they dropped me into some lake in the cove, the one you bonded with Toothless in, and I had to figure out how to walk back to town with the map I made in my head when we were doing the air tour.' He widened his eyes.

'You remembered?! After one flight?!' he asked in disbelief.

I shrugged, 'Kind of, it did take me a while to get back. Anyway to answer you last question. Yes, these are your clothes. I don't have any spares and I hoped you wouldn't mind me wearing them.' I looked up at him, and then he shook his head.

I grinned then linked my arm with his, 'Good now let's get going. I'm not going to face that creep Dagur alone.' I say pulling the auburn boy along with me.

The Great Hall

Hiccup's POV

When Tsuna and I finally reached the Great Hall, there was a small handful of Berserkers in the hall, with my father and Dagur at the head of the round table. Tsuna and I walk over to my dad and Dagur, who leered at her.

'Ah, Tsuna you kept me waiting.' he said like telling off a child, he gestured to an empty space beside him on his right, 'Look, I kept my promise. I saved a space right next to me. Just. For. You.' he emphasised the words while patting the spot next to him, then chuckled.

I could feel Tsuna's tighten her grip on my arm. _She really doesn't want to sit there_. However, she smiled politely, ''Thank you, Chief Dagur. I'll be honest with you, I thought you only made that promise to be nice. I'm glad you didn't, thank you.'' tilting her head as she finished speaking. _That's so cute_.

Clearly Dagur like what he was hearing since he grinned so wide I thought his face would split. _If only_. _Then say, 'Aw aren't you just precious. You needn't call me chief, although you're sign of respect is noted. No, you may call me Dagur.' once again he patted the spot beside him, 'Now come and sit beside me, whilst we feast then, sign the treaty.'_'

As he spoke Tsuna had walked over to him and sat down. Dagur then moved close to her ear, _again_, and whispered, ''Then, maybe we could spend some time together.'' having not realised I was close enough to hear what he said. _I think I'm gonna puke. I'll take Snotlout and Tuffnut's hopeless flirting over this any day._

I saw Tsuna cringe a little then replace it with a charming smile, ''We'll see.'' she said.

My dad then came over to me and asked, ''Have you got that Zippleback under control?'' to which I said ''We're working on it.''

Then Dagur proposed a toast to ''Death in battle'', _how pleasant, but then my dad changed it to a toast to Osvald. That didn't go down well with the Berserker chief, as he moan, 'Fine, to Osvald, to Osvald. Blah daddy blah daddy blah.' and stabbing his pie with a dagger. Where does he pull them from? I swear he didn't retrieve the one he threw at me at the docks._

Gobber then spoke, ''Well on that cheery note, shall we sign the treaty and send you on your way.'' trying to move things along, but most importantly trying to get the lunatic to leave.

Oddly, Dagur perked up at the idea, ''Great idea! Let's sign that treaty. Bring us the dragon's blood.'' _Oh no._

Tsuna's POV

Gobber tried to move events along by bring the treaty for Dagur to sign, who then said something morbid.

''Great idea! Let's sign that treaty. Bring us the dragon's blood.'' Lifting his arms in the air at the announcement.

Eyes widened, me and Hiccup end up saying, ''Did you say dragons blood?'' in unison. _That's disgusting. No way will Stoick allow this to go on. _

My hunch was right, as Stoick tried to sway Dagur by saying that he and Dagur's father hadn't signed a treaty with dragon's blood in a long time. However that didn't work as Dagur goaded Stoick about him and Berk not slaying dragons anymore. Then Gobber tried to make an excuse as to way they didn't have dragons blood, 'they had killed so may dragons that there wasn't another one for 200 miles', only to have Barf and Belch burst through the doors. _Oh perfect._

'The Zippleback! It's a sign! A head for each chief!' I heard Dagur shout beside me. _I've had enough._

'Well on that note I'm leaving.' I announce, that got Dagur's attention.

'What?! Why?! You need to witness the dragon killing!' he tried to convince me.

I look at him with a disgust face, 'No thank you.' Which wasn't the reply he was looking for.

'What was that?' he glared at me, 'Why wouldn't you want to see me kill that dragon?!' _Ah where do I begin?_

I look at him with, what I hoped was, a sad expression, 'I can't because I'm allergic to dragon's blood. Well most animal blood, except pig, sheep and chicken. So I can even eat yak.' I look away, putting on some fake tears, 'If I end up getting with dragons blood on my skin, a serious rash will develop and most of the time it takes a week to disappear. If I breathe in the smell of blood, I can't breathe properly and my windpipes will close up. Hel! Ever when I'm in close proximity with something or someone, who's interacted with yak or dragons blood I take a reaction.' I look back at Dagur, he seems to have bought my lie, 'The truth is that's the reason why Stoick hasn't killed any dragons recently. He has seen how bad my reactions get so he can't risk killing any while I'm one the island.' For extra measure I look up at Stoick who plays along and looks back at me with sympathy and 'gratitude' 'for owning up'.

Dagur looks at me, then at Stoick with wide eyes, 'I see that's unfortunate. Shame I can't show you my skills.' I look up as he says this, with appreciation in my eyes. _Hopefully he'll settle for ordinary ink. _

'Stoick and I will just take the dragon far away from you and I'll Hiccup here,' Dagur grabs Hiccup by his shoulder, 'Draw me holding one of its heads, instead.' _Damn, I had to get my hopes up, didn't I?_

Hiccup and I look at each other, then I heard Stoick tell Hiccup he had to find the Zippleback before Dagur does.

Hiccup looked down, worry written all over his face, 'I'll help you if I can Hiccup.' I told him, which seemed to help.

Time skip

Hiccup's POV

The others and I were on our dragons trying to find Ruff and Tuff. Tsuna was with me as an extra pair of eyes on Toothless.

'Hiccup, you heard Tuffnut.' Astrid called out, 'He went to his 'dark, soggy alone place' that could be anywhere.'

'Not really!' Snotlout announces, 'That can only be one place.' We all look at him in disbelief.

'What?' he asks, then I snap, 'Why didn't you say something?!!'

To which he replies, 'Why didn't you ask?'

Astrid, annoyed that we'd been looking for so long when it was unnecessary, threatened Snotlout to tell her where Tuff could be. The meat-head said the male twin would be at the Lost Cavern. After hearing that I told Astrid and Snotlout to take the South entrance of the cavern, while Fishlegs, Tsuna and I would take the North.

The Lost Cavern

When we reached our destination, I told Toothless to search, while giving him a hand sign to signify my command. _Might as while get some hand signal practise in. _Which was received and understood, but not after a speculating look. Then, the search began.

We walked into the cavern and after a short while, we found Tuffnut, 'Well, that was easy.' I heard Tsuna comment behind me.

'Tuffnut?!' I call out to him, as my torch illuminates him.

'Oh you guys again.' he says shielding his eyes from the light, 'Would you quit following me. Oh hey Tsuna.' he shouted, annoyed then softened his tone when he saw the brunette behind me.

Then, 'Would you quit following me!!' but this came from a more feminine voice, Ruffnut.

I got Toothless to provide some light by shooting a plasma blast to the cave ceiling. Then, the twins started to argue. _Great. _So I tried to bring up the issue at hand to try and get them to cooperate but that didn't work. I was about to try again when I heard Tsuna talk.

'Okay listen, I don't have any siblings so I can't say that I know or understand how you two feel. But I do know that to anyone having to share everything and not have something that shows that they are their own person, would bother them. However, here's the bigger problem, while you two have been moping and keeping this all to yourselves your friends have been trying to sort out a massive problem that could have been fixed, if you put your issues aside for a moment.' she paused, so she knew she had the twins attention, 'The reality of this situation is that, you can get another spoon or whatever object you have to share, however what you can't get is another Barf and Belch. You' are connected to them, and even though they have two heads and one body they have their own personalities which is why one head would connect to one of you better than the other. But collectively, they feel like they are the reason that you two are fighting and have been refusing to cooperate with Hiccup and the others, since they want to know that their best friends can forgive them. And what's worse is that while you both have been in here, that psychopath Dagur is now looking for YOUR dragon to use its blood for ink AND thinks that it will impress me for some unknown reason.' Then she drops the dragon dung.

We all look at her in shock as she had abruptly told the twins what was happening with Barf and Belch. Thankfully, that ''inspirational speech'' was enough to get the two to make up, so now all we had to do was find their dragon.

Time skip

The clearing

We had just witnessed my dad and the Berserkers capture Barf and Belch and drag them away to the ''killing'' arena.

''The chief's not going to kill our dragon,'' Tuffnut started, ''Is he?'' Ruff and Tuff finished the question together in unison.

''Unfortunately, Stoick isn't going to have a choice. Unless we do something.'' Tsuna stated.

''I have a plan.'' I heard Snotlout announce. _I doubt it. _''One wordâ€|Annihilate.'' Then Hookfang shoot fire at my cousin's helmet.

''Or not.'' I hear Astrid say. _She's right. _

Then, ''Oh my gosh! That's it! Oh Snotlout you're a genius!'' we turn to Tsuna in shock, ''Oh I could kiss you.' she ran over to him and hugged him.

Smirking, ''Feel free to.'' Snotlout permitted and puckered his lips, which earned a disgusted look from the petit brunette.

''No thanks.'' she replied.

Tsuna then turned to us and told us her plan. _She's a genius! That could work._

Dragon academy/Killing arena

Dagur was about to behead Barf and Belch, which was when we employed Tsuna's plan.

''Dragon attack!'' I shouted running into the arena, as the dragons closed in.

The other trainers used the hand signals they had practised, to instruct their dragons without giving the game away. Stormfly shot her spikes at a Berserkers, while Meatlug tackled another. Gobber said we should protect our honoured guest, to which said guest said he wasn't going to retreat.

Then, after a short beat around by the dragons, Dagur got annoyed and threw a spear at Barf and Belch. However, Toothless swooped in and catch the projectile in his mouth. _That's my cue._

In dramatic tone, ''Back you fiend you, you'll not harm my friend Dagur.'' at the last part of my sentence I hit the lunatic in the face with my shield, _that was satisfying, _so he couldn't see me give Toothless his signal.

When Toothless shout his plasma blast, I pushes Dagur out the way towards the exit.

Then with an extra push, which made Dagur fall over, I said, 'Please Dagur save yourself.' Then I went to 'battle the Night Fury alone' and when I got pushed down, 'You owe it to your people.' I added to persuade him to leave. And it worked.

The Berserkers and their Chief fled the island. _Hopefully we won't see him anytime soon._

Later that evening

Tsunu POV

'Looks like the plan worked.' I said as I walked into the arena, to see the group with their dragons.

Snotlout stepped out a bit, then said, 'I still think Dagur's pretty cool.'

I scoff, 'Yeah, you wouldn't be saying that if you saw how he was ogling me.' I shudder.

'And flirting with you.' Hiccup added.

Snotlout and Tuffnut, for some reason, looked livid and started mumbling about 'death' and 'rivals everywhere'.

_Whatever. Something tells me there isn't going to be a dull moment on this island. _I thought, fondly, as Toothless trotted over and started to nuzzle me again.

Chapter 10

Hiccup's POV

Dad, Gobber and I have been looking for Trader Johann's boat for hours, with no luck. Finally, we called it a day and flew back to Berk, when we landed I saw my dad with a look of disappointment on his face.

'Not to worry, old friend, it'll arrive safely and in good time.' I hear Gobber comfort my dad. _What could dad be expecting that could bother him this much when it hasn't arrived on time?_

Deciding to take matters into my own hands, I look to Toothless, 'Come on Bud, we're going on a little field trip.' I say with determination.

Time skip

Dragon Academy

I was packing up some food into pouches attached to Toothless' saddle, 'Okeydokey, we'll start in the Waste islands and work our way back.' I say to Toothless.

'Back from where?' I hear Astrid ask, as she appeared out of nowhere with Stormfly. I could see Tsuna was walking into the Academy and was heading towards us, clearly having heard what Astrid had said.

'J-just a quick spin around the island.' I try, keyword try, to lie.

Astrid and Tsuna walk towards me with incredulous looks, Astrid moves to Toothless' saddle, 'Uh-huh, quick spin? With enough food to feed Snotlout's entire family.' she inquires, pulling the food out of the pouch.

'Did I hear my name?' Snotlout calls out, while jogging to our direction, 'Oh, do I see a salmon?' snatching the drink I packed, and started stuffing said salmon into his mouth. Tsuna cringed with disgust as she saw my cousin chew with his mouth wide open.

'If you must know-' I start.

'And we must.' Astrid said.

'I'm going to do something for my father.' I say vaguely, as Snotlout swallows the mouthful of salmon he'd been chewing.

Noticing that the three in front of me weren't satisfied with my answer, I sigh, 'Oh God, okay. Trader Johann is bringing something to for him. Something important and he should have been here by now.' I gave in.

'You're not trading this fish are you?' Snotlout asks, unintelligently, 'Cause it's delicious.' he drawls as Hookfang snatches the salmon out of his riders hand, then regurgitates it. _Oh Gods, did he just eat that?_

Astrid perks up a bit, 'When do we leave?' she asks.

'I need to go alone. My dad will get suspicious if we all leave.' I say to try and get them to stay behind.

Tsuna spoke up, 'Hiccup, I've not been here long, but I can already tell that the chances of any of the other trainers staying behind, is as likely as Astrid dating Snotlout. Sorry about that Astrid just making a point.'

Astrid shrugged, 'Don't worry, it was a good point.' _Those get on well. Maybe the plan to get Dagur and the Berserkers to leave, earned Tsuna Astrid's respect._

'Okay, fine, go get the others. Tsuna you stay here and- you're going to come with us aren't you?' I instructed, turning to the brunette only to see her eyebrow rise in amusement as I say she should stay behind.

Time skip

Tsuna's POV

After Snotlout and Astrid gathered the other dragon trainers, we started the search. I was on Toothless behind Hiccup, mainly because the Night Fury didn't give me or Hiccup the choice. I could tell Hiccup was a bit peeved at having the company and was sulking a bit.

'Hiccup, aren't you always saying it's better we work as a team?' Fishlegs mentioned, wobbling on Meatlug.

'Next time I say that just slap me in the face.' he says.

I smirk, 'I'll do that right now if you want?' looming my hand beside his cheek in 'preparation'.

'Or Ruffnut can do it.' Tuffnut suggests, 'And she slaps like a guy, it's awesome. Watch.' Ruff slaps her twins in the face, hard, which he seems to enjoy. _Is he a masochist or something?_

Astrid then calls out, 'Hey look!' pointing downwards at something.

'I can't see anything through the tears.' I hear Tuff state. I couldn't help but laugh.

Hiccup looked down towards where Astrid had been pointing and exclaimed, 'Is that Johann?!!'

Snotlout made another unintelligent remark, then we headed down to the ocean and Toothless scooped up Johann unconscious body from some driftwood.

We flew a short distance then found a small island and place Johann on the ground. After he regained consciousness, he wouldn't stop chanting 'The fog. The fog' over and over. _I think he's a few peas short of a pod._

Finally Hiccup asked the traumatised man where his ship was, 'No idea. All I know is one minute I was sailing in a perfectly calm sea, the wind at my backâ€|and the next thing I know my entire ship is pulled out from under me and I'm shark bait.'" was the calm then hysterical reply.

Hiccup and Astrid look at each other, "'I don't understand.'" the auburn haired teen said.

"'I do. I was three days late and tried to make up time. And I got too close.'" Johann snapped.

Fishlegs looked nervous, then asked, "'Too close to what?'"

"'Too close toâ€|Breakneck Bog!'" he shouted. _Breakneck Bog?_

The teens echoed Johann, Tuff a bit out of time, "'What's Breakneck Bog?'" I ask.

"'Many a ship has sailed into its waters. Few have returned.'" Fishlegs explained (?)

"'My Grandfather told me it's pirates.'" Astrid added.

"'That's ridiculous!'" Snotlout snapped, "'Everyone knows it's haunted by a fog monster.'" he said in a matter-of-fact voice.

That got Fishlegs scared and Ruff and Tuff explained what the 'fog monster' doesn't do to people. Johann didn't help as he confirmed what they had said, "'Yes it's true what he says. It-it surrounded me.'"

"'See fog monster. Pirates, hahaha, stupid Grandfather.'" Snotlout sniggered.

"'Seriously? 'Fog monster'? That's the most ridiculous thing I've ever heard. There are higher chances it was dragons or pirates, than that.'" I scoff.

Hiccup walked to Johann and told we had to find his ship because of the item he had on it for his father, "'Yes, there was. But it wasn't for your father it was for you.'" the trader said.

That surprised Hiccup, and me, "'For me? From who?'" he asked.

"'He didn't tell you?'" Johann wondered, "'It was from your mother.'" he revealed.

After that revelation, Hiccup adopted a confused expression, "'My mother?'"

Astrid asked what the item was, to which Johann said he didn't know and that the item was in a chest with a Berk crest on it. Hiccup told Johann he had to take us to where he lost his ship, but that only caused the trader to panic and refuse. Hiccup settled for directions to place the ship was lost and told Snotlout to take the trader back to Berk with the twins, which wasn't received well.

Fishlegs asked what the rest of the group were going to do, "'We're going to Breakneck Bog, obviously.'" I state, which got the bulky Viking to quiver in fear.

Breakneck Bog

As we approached our destination, Fishlegs tried to convince Hiccup to go back by offer him something from his mother then offer to give him his mother. _Wow that's insensitive. _Then Astrid teased Fishlegs by scaring him. We circled the island, and then landed.

'I don't get it. We flew all around the island. No boat.' Hiccup said.

Astrid spoke next, 'Not even the remains of a boat.'

'You know who would take a boat?' Fishlegs inquired, 'A fog monster.' _Not this again._

There was a roar that came from the island, which caused the dragons to act up. After calming the winged reptiles down, we headed towards the woods of the island, to the dismay of Fishlegs.

Time skip

After walking for a while, we walked by a pile of bones then an anchor (?) nearly fell on Astrid. We finally found Johann's ship: up a tree.

'Wow, he really got off course.' Hiccup joked.

'Fog monster.' Fishlegs stated suddenly, looking at the ship with fear.

We flew up to the ship, but the dragons started back away in fear.

'They're afraid. And they're dragons, so we should ask ourselves, what are we doing?' Fishlegs said.

'The ship won't hold them.' I call out.

Hiccup nodded, 'We need to jump down and send the dragons to the ground.'

We jumped onto the boat and the dragons were sent to the ground. Hiccup then told us that we should find the chest so we could get out of here. Then, suddenly, a single bone fell from the sky, which was followed by a shower of them. _What no way! Could fog monsters exist here? _I think to myself, for once ignoring my HI due to the fright I got.

'Below deck!' I hear Astrid shout, so we run below deck.

When we got there, we could hear the bones hit the deck above us, Hiccup tried to give a reasonable excuse but it only came across weird.

'Can we just find that chest and go, please?' I suggest, still on edge.

As we searched, after a short while, I heard Fishlegs start to scream and headed towards him. He had found Hiccup, who had found the chest that we were searching for, the bulky teen looked hysterical.

'It's coming after us!' Astrid yelled.

Hiccup pointed to a closet and we his in there and told, stupidly, not to breathe. Fear having taken over, and having lost all common sense, 'I just want you guys to know, even though I haven't known you long. You are the best friends I could even wish of having.' I said, receiving ahh's from the Viking teens.

The door opened and we screamed. What I saw annoyed me, to be polite. Tuffnut was holding a skeleton arm and greeted us, Ruffnut and Snotlout were behind him with entertained looks on their faces.

'Need a hand.' Tuffnut joked.

I saw red and tackled him to the ground, which caused him to drop the arm and proceeded to punch him in the face or torso, whatever I could hit, 'You jerk, I'm going to kill you!' I look up and saw Ruff was close to the arm, 'Ruffnut hand me that arm!' which she did and I started to hit Tuff's helmet with it.

'Do. You. EVER. Do. That. Again!' I emphasise each word with a blow to his helmet, until I heard Hiccup tell me to stop but I gave one final blow for the sake of it. I turn to Ruff and Snotlout, and they backed away from me in fear, 'If either of you do something like this again, you'll end up like him.' I point to Tuff, who was groaning.

'Wow, you hit like a guy too. Better than Ruffnut.' I heard the moron say. _That's a bit of a compliment, since he thinks I'm a girl._

Hiccup annoyed at the trio questioned them as to why they would scare us, 'They're getting revenge for having Trader Johann landed on them.' I say.

Astrid looked at the necklace around Snotlout's neck and inquired as to how he got it. He told her and tried and failed to woo her by offering to get her one. Then as soon as he finished talking, the whole boat started to sway dangerously then proceeded to fall from the tree.

Shortly after we hit the ground, there was a strange noise then the place started to fill up with fog. _Are those-_

'Just so you know. This fog, not us.' Snotlout reassured us.

When the fog dispelled, Astrid asked if we could leave but Hiccup noticed that the chest he had been holding was gone.

'Too bad so sad. See you back at Berk.' Tuffnut said quickly, as he, his sister, Fishlegs and Snotlout run up to the deck.

I ran after them and reached the deck as they clamber over the side of the boat and mounted their dragons. Before I knew it I shouted, 'Toothless!' and the Night Fury reacted the way I wanted. _Strange._

The Night Fury roared at the other dragon, pupils dilated, and said dragons bucked their riders off their backs and started to hover out of their reach, to prevent the teens from mounting again. I jump down from the ship and stomp toward the teens on the ground, who were confused at their dragons behaviour, ''Oh no you don't. You don't get to do this, run away with your tails between your legs when things get scary. You are all dragon trainers, you more or less tame the world's most vicious creatures and the thing that you are running from is, in fact, THE VERY BEASTS YOU RIDE!'' I shout at them, then look at the dragons, ''No offense you guys.'' I apologise to them, which was accepted.

''_Don't worrying we know what you meant.'' _Toothless said.

''Now, back in that closet I said something pretty meaningful, 'even though I haven't known you long. You are the best friends I could even wish of having' but now I think I'll take that back if this is how you'd act in a situation I'd need you but things got scary so you bid farewell!'' they look away guilty, ''That chest had something that Hiccup's mother wanted him to have, and I can tell that she 'isn't with us anymore'. You Fishlegs were making offers on the way here that you'd give Hiccup your mum so you don't know what he's going through, and I think the same can be said for the rest of you. If you were in Hiccup's shoes and you asked him for help to get something that was from your mother but it was stole, he wouldn't run away and gave up when thing got hairy, he'd be a true friend and stay until the job was done!'' I continue my lecture, I didn't care that I was being cruel, I just wanted them to realise that they were being terrible 'friends'.

I heard Astrid and Hiccup jump down from the boat and walk up behind me, I turn around and do something that surprised everyone including me; I hugged the auburn haired teen, tightly.

''I'm staying to help you Hiccup.'' I say as I let him go, I could see the appreciation in his eyes, and just how much it meant to him. I turn to Astrid, ''Oh yeah, by the way, my speech didn't include you by the way. You stayed. So please don't think I was having a go at you.'' feeling a little guilty. However, much to my relief, the blond girl smiled at me.

''Don't worry about it. Besides these mutton-heads needed to be lectured anyway.'' she stated, pointing at the guilty looking 'mutton-heads', ''I got to say though, I didn't think you'd have any fire to your roar, you surprise me.'' she joked, referring of course to my 'fiery' speech and the beating I gave Tuffnut earlier, I think.

I grin, ''You aren't the only one. I'm surprising myself too.''

Time skip

After the guilt trip I gave the twins, Snotlout and Fishlegs, they agreed to help us find the chest. Hiccup recalled my outburst of 'the beasts you ride' bit and understood that I meant it was dragons that stole the chest. Luckily, I managed to dodge the 'how did you know?' question since the priority was to find the chest.

We had been flying for a while, then Astrid spotted the dragons shrouded with fog and we flew down to catch them. Unfortunately, the cluster divided into two and went separate directions. After a short, but nevertheless, annoying chase we landed on a gorge after losing both clusters, but not for long. The 'fog dragons' closed in around us, which caused the dragons to get agitated. _Wait a minute._

Realising something, I got an idea and shouted out to the dragons, ''Guys, flap your wings and blow away the fog!'' which they did. Once the fog was gone, we could finally see the dragons that had previous been covered in, and they looked angry.

The twins were commenting on the dragons wondering what they could be, then, ''Smothering Smokebreath dragons.'' Fishlegs gasped out.

We turned to him in disbelief, ''What I read about them, I didn't think they actually existed.'' he excused, which got an outburst from Astrid.

Hiccup asked Fishlegs what he knows about the Smokebreaths and listed two things but trailed off since he had forgotten the last thing. The Smokebreaths then started to attack us, then Hiccup realised that we were outnumbered so he told us to retreat.

''If they are territorial that explains the aggressive behaviour, their nest must be near-by.'' I call out the group.

''_We must get the metal back to the nest. We must make the nest bigger, and stronger.'' _I heard a variety of voices say to one another. _It must be the Smokebreaths. So their nest is made of metal. I should tell the others this, but what do I say when they ask how I know?_

We flew up to an overlooking ledge and landed. Fishlegs asked why we were still here, ''The Smokebreaths have the chest. I think I've figured out what the last thing about them, that Fishlegs forgot.'' I state, once their attention was on me I continued, ''I think their nest is made out of metal. Think of, Johann is a trader so he must have had many different type of weapons and different metallic objects to trade. However the only metal object was the tacky necklace Snotlout is wearing and the crest on the chest. They were getting territorial just now so the nest must be close. So when you add everything together, they must be gathering all the metal objects they can get their claws on to strengthen their nest.'' I finish just as a cluster of the dragons in question flew above head and into a cave.

When I finish talking I hear Snotlout scoff, ''No way.'' he says with confidence.

''Actually, she's right. That is the last thing.'' Fishlegs announced. _That got the mutton-head to shut up._

''Okay, that said. That cave must be the nest.'' Hiccup stated.

Astrid spoke up, ''Hiccup, I think we should move away and think of a plan. If those things come back, they'll attack for sure.'' she says. Hiccup nodded in agreement and told the others trainers to get on their dragon, then flew a few metres away from the nest.

A few minutes later

Hiccup and the others were brainstorming, when I left. I figured I'd be able to try and talk to the Smokebreaths, since I can understand them and vice versa. When I reached the nest, I stopped a safe distance from the mouth of the cave. _Okay this could be stupid, but it's worth a shot._

'Hello.' I call out, instantly the Smothering Smokebreaths flew out, not shrouded in fog funnily enough.

'_What is it. It's a two legged flesh bag. What does it want? It must want to kill us. We shall not let that happen.' _I heard them talk amongst themselves.

'I don't mean you any harm.' I reason.

'_It lies!_' _I hear one of them call out.

'I'm not lying. I just want to talk.' I say.

The Smokebreaths look at me, wide eyed, _'You understand us, flesh bag?' _a Smokebreath in front of me asked.

I nod, 'Yes I do. And my name is Tsuna, not flesh bag.' I introduce myself.

'_What is it you wish to talk aboutâ€¦|Tsuna?' _another one asked, they had all relaxed but some were ready to attack.

'You have something that belongs to a friend of mine.' I state.

'_What make it theirs? And what makes you think we have it?' _they demand.

'It was something his mother wanted him to have; it has the crest of his village on it. And I know you have it because I saw you take it from his arms in the boat.' I say.

This got them thinking, _'Is the chest the small flesh bag with the metal foot had?' _one asked, I nod, _'It was something his mother wanted to give him?' _I nod again.

They start to hiss in a way that sounded like they were laughing, _'Well she should have given it to him herself. Not leave it in some flesh bag's boat! Yes she shouldn't have! It's ours now.' _several of them commented.

I snap at their comments, 'She couldn't give it to him herself, because she is dead, and has been since he was very young,' that got them to stop laughing, 'And the 'flesh bag' that boat belongs to, was delivering that chest to her son!' I shout at them.

'_Dead since he was a hatchling? She entrusted another flesh bag to deliver her gift to her son? Must have been intended before her death.' _I heard the Smokebreaths converse amongst themselves, forgetting I could hear them. I didn't say anything else since I could hear guilt in their voices at what they had said.

I saw them nod at one another, then saw two of the small dragons fly off into the cave, _'We apologise for our insensitivity. Please take the chest back to your friend. Had we known about its importance we would have never have taken it. Please tell him we are sorry.' _the Smokebreath in front of me apologised, and the two that had flown into the cave had flown back out with the chest.

'Apology accepted. Thank you for understanding how much this chest means to him.' I thank them.

'_Of course, please make sure you return it to him safely, Tsuna.' _they all called out, as I turn to leave.

'I will, thanks again. Bye!' I call over shoulder as I run off.

Back with the others

'Where did she go?!' I hear Astrid call out.

'You don't think the Smothering Smokebreaths ate her, when she went to 'relieve' herself, do you?' Snotlout wondered.

'Oh Gods, we have to find Tsuna and fast!' Hiccup shouted to the others.

'If she were going to eat her, they probably carried her off to their nest so they were all fed.' Fishlegs suggested.

'Okay, we're going to the nest now! The priority is to get her out of there, forget the chest! Tsuna's wellbeing is far more important!' I hear Hiccup call out. I couldn't help but feel moved and flattered by what he said.

I picked up the pace and call out to them, 'Hey, guys! I'm alright, no need to start a war.' I try and joke.

Hiccup stormed over to me and gripped my shoulders, tightly, with I grip I didn't think someone of his size could have, and shook me, 'WHERE THE HECK HAVE YOU BEEN?!' he shouted in my face, 'When we finally had a plan we realised you had said a word, THEN DISCOVERED THE REASON FOR THAT WAS THE YOU WENT HERE!' his grip tightened, if that was possible, and shook me some more, 'WE THOUGHT THE WORST HAD HAPPENED! DO YOU HAVE ANY IDEA HOW WORRIED I WAS?! HOW MUSH YOU SCARED ME JUST NOW?!' he yelled some more, his voice cracked a little.

'Where in Helheim and Valhalla, did you go?' he asked, quietly as relief entered his eyes and heâ€|hugged me?! With a strength that almost crushed my ribs. Everyone was shocked by his display, but not as shock as me. _How worried was he? And how could he care so much about my well-being when he hasn't known me that long?_

At some point during Hiccup's yelling, I had dropped the chest so my hands were free, so I returned the hug the auburn teen had me trapped in, 'I'm sorry.' I whisper, 'I didn't mean for you to worry. I just-' I couldn't finish my sentence as my voice gave out after witnessing such emotion I wasn't surprised by this.

Hiccup loosened his grip and looked me in the eye, ''Where were you?'' concern written on his face.

''Ironically, at the Smothering Smokebreaths nest.'' he pulled away from me completely and took a few steps back in shock.

''WHAT?!'' the others teens exclaimed.

''How in Thor's name, are you still alive and in one piece?!'' Fishlegs asked/screamed.

''I showed them I wasn't a threat and I managed to talk them into giving me the chest.'' I picked up the chest and presented it to a gobsmacked Hiccup, ''They looked pretty guilty, once I told them it was a gift your 'no longer with us' mother had meant for you. After they heard that they retrieved it from their nest and, I think, apologised if the kick-puppy look they had was anything to go by.'' I tell them. _It's the truth just not the whole truth._

The group look at the chest in Hiccup's arms and then at me, ''Wow, Tsuna you're really made of tough stuff.'' Tuffnut complimented me with a chuckle, Ruffnut nodded in agreement with a smirky-smile. I shrug at him.

Astrid just shook her head in disbelief with a smile, Fishlegs was recovering from the whole 'I talk them into giving the chest' thing and Snotlout looked like he was about to drool. _Weirdo._

Hiccup looked at the chest then at me, I figured he was happy that he had it now, then he, to my surprise, dropped/chucked the chest to the ground and pulled me into another hug, ''Thank you. But don't you make me worry like that again.'' he whispered into my ear.

''I'll try not to.'' was all I could say. I wasn't going to make a promise I couldn't keep.

*Time skip ****

Berk

After the heartfelt moment Hiccup and I had at Breakneck Bog, we decided to leave the island (BB) as soon as possible and head back to Berk. No before retrieving Johann's ship.

Stoick was giving Astrid and Snotlout instructions as they lowered the boat into the harbour, ''We're going to have to clear the forest to fix this boat.'' I hear Gobber say as the boat was completely lowered.

I saw Snotlout and Astrid land whilst the other trainers joined us on the docks. Stoick turned to Johann and asked if there was anything else he could do for him. _Please ask what I hope you'll ask._

''Yes, just give me five minutes with the three who dropped me back in the ocean!'' the trader ask/shouted.

See the three in question try and sneak away, I grab them and drag them towards Johann, ''Haha, no sooner said than do.'' I laugh, as Johann's eyes glinted with something.

'Thank you, lass. Next time I'm in Berk I give you anything you want from my merchandise for free.' he offers with a smile, as he takes hold of Ruff, Tuff and Snotlout. I tell him I'll hold him to that offer.

'Why would you do this, Tsuna?' I hear the three call out, as Johann dragged them away.

I turn to them with a smile, 'Think of this as my revenge on you three for scaring me. Besides, you do deserve it for abandoning Johann like that.' I wave them farewell as Johann dragged them from view.

Hiccup's house

Hiccup's POV

I stood with my dad, staring at the chest on the table, 'Go ahead, open it.' he urges me, so I do. When I opened it I saw a little, stuffed, toy dragon.

'I remember this.' I say, breathlessly.

'Aye, you should.' my dad said, 'Your mother made that for you when you were just a baby. Scared you half to death, you didn't sleep for a week.' he told me, amusement in his voice.

'What? I was afraid of dragons?' I asked in disbelief, as Toothless brought his head closer. _What timing._

My dad chuckled and told me I threw the stuffed dragon into the sea, when he had taken me fishing. When I asked him how he found it, he explained that it was found in a fishing net and Johann had been traded it and contacted him.

After hearing that I look down, 'I was so little when mumâ€¦you knowâ€¦I was starting to get afraid that I'd forget her.' I admitted, 'But know I love it.' I smiled.

My dad told me that mum would have been very happy to hear me say that, I nod at him understanding. I thought for a minute.

'Hey dad?' I voice, he gave me his attention, 'Do you think it would be okay, if I gave this to someone close to me?' I ask.

He looks at me, 'If they are close to you and they are important to you. I don't see the harm in giving them something with such value.' he told me with a smile.

I return his smile, then I heard the door open and close and then heard the voice of the person I was thinking about. _Great timing._

Tsuna walked in with a smile on her face and told me that Johann was getting his revenge on the twins and Snotlout, and in a roundabout way was getting her revenge on them for scary her on the boat. Dad and I laugh at this information. _Now is as greater time than any._

'Hey, Tsuna.' I get her attention.

She smiles at me, 'Yeah, what is it?' she asks.

I take a deep breath and walk up to her, 'Here, I want you to have this.' I hold out the toy dragon, which she accepts with a smile.

'Thanks, Hiccup. Oh yeah, what was in the chest anyway?' she asks with a smile. My dad chuckles and she looks at him in confusion.

'You're holding it.' I tell her and her eyes widen.

'Hiccup I can't take something that holds great importance to you. It's was from your mother, right? You should keep it.' she tries to give it back, but I take her hands and push them, and the toy, back to her.

I smile, 'If it wasn't for you my friends, would have left and returned here, then I wouldn't have found about the Smothering Smokebreaths. If it wasn't for you we wouldn't have found out that the Smokebreaths used metal to build their nests. If it wasn't for you-' I pause to hug her tightly, 'I wouldn't have the chest and that toy my mother made for me. It's thanks to you that this important possession was returned to me, and that is reason enough to give you something so important to me. Thank you.' I tell her and pull away, amused to see her shocked face.

Tsuna's POV (of what just happened)

I had gotten back and I saw Hiccup with his dad and Toothless. I couldn't help but tell them what had happened with Johann and the terrible trio, and they found it just as amusing as I did. Hiccup then called out my name.

I smile at him, 'Yeah, what is it?' I ask.

He takes a deep breath and walks towards me, 'Here, I want you to have this.' he says, as he hold out the toy dragon, which I accept with a smile.

'Thanks, Hiccup. Oh yeah, what was in the chest anyway?' I ask, see the chest on the table, with a smile. Stoick chuckles and I look at him in confused.

'You're holding it.' Hiccup tells me and my eyes widen.

'Hiccup I can't take something that holds great importance to you. It's was from your mother, right? You should keep it.' I say, trying to give dragon back, but he takes my hands and pushes them, with the toy in them, back to me. He then tells me it was thanks to me that he even had this to give and hugs me as he thanks me. I could see Stoick look at his son in surprise at his display, then smiled warmly at us.

Total Deja-vu. I hate to think how Hiccup will react when he discovers I'm a boy. I don't even want to think what his dad will do to me.
